

Harrison Reilly

Harrison Reilly has six years of experience working in the public relations industry, serving clients in the consumer food and agricultural spaces, previously working for both Cogent Consulting & Communications and FleishmanHillard in Sacramento.

Harrison is a graduate of Cal Poly, San Luis Obispo, where he earned a B.S. in Agricultural Communication in 2016. While at Cal Poly, Harrison worked for two years at the Brock Center for Agricultural Communication as an editor for Ag Circle magazine. He was also an officer in Agricultural Communicators of Tomorrow, winning Best Feature Story at the annual Ag Media Summit for his work at Ag Circle. Harrison also worked for Cal Poly Television and Radio.

A native of California's Napa Valley, Harrison attended St. Helena High School where he earned his FFA American Degree.

Experience:

- Provides communications and industry relations services to clients, including managing newsrooms, producing podcasts, managing social media pages, designing social media content, writing industry newsletters, and providing program management services
- Has worked extensively with trade publications in the agriculture, construction, and turf space

Education:

- Cal Poly, San Luis Obispo – B.S. in Agricultural Communication – 2016

CONTACT INFORMATION

621 Capitol Mall, Suite 1900

Sacramento, CA 95814

Main: 916-448-2162

Fax: 916-448-4923

E-Mail: hreilly@ka-pow.com